THE TOUR WILL FEATURE

Tour sites in Louisville to see how ordinary people can make extraordinary changes that reverse environmental degradation and create a healthier and more equitable future for our entire community. Participants will walk away with concrete steps and strategies for how to be part of making our world more sustainable. We will visit sites on the tour that model sustainable living practices such as homes and businesses using solar photovoltaic and geothermal technologies, community gardening and local foods projects, an organic farm, a sanitary landfill, a single-stream recycling facility, a LEED certified building, and electric vehicle charging facilities.

- Learn how your neighbors are beginning to live more sustainably.
- Witness the transition our world is undertaking to become more environmentally friendly.
- Find out what steps you can take to live in right relationship with the Earth.
